HELP THE WAR EFFORT BY PREVENTING FOREST FIRES

Much harm can be done the war effort because of our carelessness with fire. Lumber has gone to war in a BIG WAY! Our New Hampshire forests are contributing their full share insofar as manpower permits. Fire, the greatest enemy of the forests, destroys, during each of these critical years, hundreds of acres of valuable trees that could contribute to the war effort. Forest fires disrupt the war's business by taking men from their important work in industry and on the farm and reduces production of necessary war materials and food. Forest fires require the spending of much money and material that might otherwise be diverted into vital war channels. Forest fires are, for the most part, unnecessary and avoidable for ninety-eight percent of such fires are, annually, the result of human carelessness—yours and mine. This can and should be remedied—NOW! YOU can HELP THE WAR EFFORT by PREVENTING FOREST FIRES! The rules of the game are simple:

1. Always be careful with fire in or near woodlands.
2. Comply with regulations governing the use of starting of fires there.

Remember

- a. You need written permission from your local forest fire warden for debris burning fires when the ground is not covered with snow.
 - b. Be sure your match, cigar, cigarette and pipe ashes are OUT before dropping them.
3. Be fire-minded NOW as never before; be careful; caution others to be careful; be cooperative and thus help your warden, your town, your nation and yourself!

The 1944 Fire record for our town is:

Number of fires 2; acreage burned $2\frac{1}{2}$; number of permits issued 4.

ELDON D. WESTOVER,
Forest Fire Warden.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the Campton School Board:

My second annual report as your superintendent of schools presents for your consideration those items which my experience has shown to be of special importance. The facts and discussion included herein are intended to give the people of Campton information which will help them to better understanding of school operation.

Our first concern is the teacher situation as it affects our ability to keep all Campton schools in good functioning order. School boards may provide ample supplies and equipment and superintendents may give advice and direction, but the teacher herself is the final gauge of school efficiency. It therefore becomes of paramount importance that we secure and keep good teachers. There are many factors which now have a tremendous influence on doing that very thing. Teacher training institutions are able to supply only a small per cent of those needed each year. As we go deeper into the war emergency that supply is likely to grow even less. Many teachers have responded to the call of government service or the lure of more attractive wages in industry. Being perfectly aware of the teacher shortage, the comparatively few available teachers have become more critical of offers made to them, confident that a little more waiting will bring opportunities which could normally be realized only after a long period of successful experience. This all works to the disadvantage of the small school of four or more grades. In my opinion we need expect no great improvement for at least another four years. Campton has appreciated the quality of service rendered by local and nearby teachers and has expressed that appreciation by appropriate upward revision of the salary schedule. Our best school insurance is to be prepared in 1945-46 for still greater financial in-duancements as we enter the highly competitive field of teacher employment.

Music instruction was resumed in October when Miss Carolyn E. Gove of Laconia was employed as music supervisor. There was an interruption of five weeks while her car was undergoing repairs following an accident which occurred while she was on her way to the Manchester Convention. Miss Gove's manner of approach has won the good will of her pupils and the teachers. We believe much will be accomplished in music under her direction.

School transportation has been reduced from that maintained in 1943-44. The route covered by Mrs. Phoebe Downing was discontinued and arrangements were made with the father to transport the only pupil on that route. Similar arrangements with the father of one pupil on the Bog Road eliminated Paul Durgin's route. John Blanchard's route to the Center School remains unchanged. A reduction in transportation is a favorable development in these days of gasoline and tire economy.

Not only in Campton but in several other towns as well there is increasing difficulty in procuring janitor service in rural schools. Even with larger pay the few older boys who might do such work do not seem interested. Furthermore, this year it so happens that larger pupils who might otherwise help out live too far from the school to undertake janitorial duties. The employment of adults, provided they were available, presents an acute financial problem.

All schools are now provided with the new reading system through grade four. It is not our intention to extend the basal system beyond that point. Grades three through eight are using "Adventures in English" which gives us a unified plan and continuity of instruction in English. Manuscript writing is now being taught in grade one and will continue through the first half of next year in grade two. From the second half of second grade, all pupils will receive regular instruction in a graded system of handwriting. A complete series of history textbooks is being gradually introduced from grade five through eight. It is my opinion that the most satisfactory results can be obtained when we use a complete set of books for instruction instead of several split series.

Parents have now had a chance to see how the new report cards picture the progress made by their children. Attention is especially called to the report on school citizenship. It is my belief that the qualities there rated will count more heavily in later success than the purely scholastic achievement. The purpose of the new reporting system can be summarized under these headings:

- (a) They present a visual record of progress
- (b) They reward real effort.
- (c) They encourage pupils to do their best.
- (d) They allow constructive comments by teachers.
- (e) They make children mindful of personal qualities.
- (f) They make teachers understand their pupils better.
- (g) They discourage jealousy and selfish competition among pupils.

The true function of our schools is to take each child at the point where we find him and build from there on rather than to try to start at the point where we wish he might be. For that reason, it is not uncommon for children to work on one grade level in arithmetic and on a different grade level in one or more other subjects. This plan can easily be followed in schools including several grades under the same teacher. Teachers and superintendent alike are trying to make each child's school years as helpful and effective as possible as we prepare each one to assume an active part in later life.

Again, I wish to express my appreciation of the fine spirit of cooperation that exists among parents, teachers, and members of the Campton School Board.

Respectfully submitted,

ARTHUR S. ROLLINS,

Superintendent of Schools.
